Stafford & Associates as a part-time Associate since 2012 and the National Association of Clery Compliance Officers & Professionals (NACCOP) where she currently serves as Director of Training and Compliance Activities. Murray began her career in municipal law enforcement as a civilian employee with the City of Richmond Police Department (Virginia). She graduated from the Virginia Commonwealth University Police Training Academy and began her career as a sworn police officer for the University of Richmond (UR) Police Department (Virginia). At UR, Murray progressed through the ranks from a night shift patrol officer to Operations Lieutenant (overseeing criminal investigations, crime prevention and patrol) over the span of a decade before becoming the Chief of Police at Davidson

College in North Carolina. Most recently, Murray served as Chief of Police at Trinity Washington University (in Washington, D.C.).

As the Executive Director, Equity Compliance and Civil Rights Services for DSA, Murray builds on her 17-year career in law enforcement in which she became a nationally recognized expert in the field of best practice postsecondary institutional response to the sexual victimization of college women in the United States and in Canada. She is also a trained civil rights investigator and is well respected throughout the country for her ability to aid institutions in understating how to do best practice criminal and civil rights investigations concurrently. She is well known for her work in having provided support, advocacy and criminal investigative services for victims of sexual assault, stalking and intimate partner violence and is a sought-out speaker and investigator. She has expertise in the construction of best practice law enforcement standard operating procedures and training police officers to respond in best practice and trauma-informed ways to victims of sexual assault and intimate partner violence. In her current role, Murray coordinates curriculum development and instruction for national classes, including basic and advanced sexual misconduct investigation classes; an investigation of dating violence, domestic violence and stalking class; and a Title IX Coordinator/Investigator class offered through D. Stafford & Associates. To date, Murray has trained more than 3,500 criminal and civil rights investigators throughout the U.S.

Drawing on her experiences as a trained criminal and civil rights investigator, Murray also oversees independent investigations of complex sexual misconduct cases; conducts audits of Title IX/VAWA

ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATES FOR COMPLETION

To receive a certificate, attendees must attend the majority of the class and have paid class invoice in full. This applies to both in-person classes and virtual classes. We understand that attendees may need to miss class for a legitimate reason for longer periods of time or may need to leave the room during a class for a few minutes to take a phone call or attend to other business. If an attendee misses a significant amount of the class (depending on the length of the class) or they miss an attendance poll, they will not be issued a certificate of completion for the class.

Attendees should report each absence using the online form provided (each class has its own unique form that is sent to all attendees via email prior to class). Attendees should complete the form twice for each absence: once to record their departure, and again to record their return. Attendees should complete the form immediately before leaving class and as soon as practicable upon their return. If an attendee signs out but does not sign back in, they will be marked absent for the remainder of the day.

The criteria for receiving a certificate is determined based on missed class time and participation in the Attendance Polls that will be launched throughout each day of class. Attendance polls are left up for approximately 5 minutes and the instructor notifies the attendees that a poll is being launched to ensure that everyone who is present can respond to the poll. If an attendee is unable to respond to the attendance poll, the attendee would need to immediately post "I am here" in the chat feature within the Zoom platform. That way we can give the attendee credit for being in attendance for that specific poll. Notifying us after the attendance poll has been closed will not allow us to give the attendee credit for being in class during the poll.

Some of our classes may qualify for credit toward a Master's Degree at New England College (and regardless if you decide to seek credit or not, accreditation requirements mandate that we follow the same standards for all class attendees), so we have strict attendance standards that we follow for issuance of a certificate. For DSA & NACCOP, issuance of a Certificate of Completion is verification of attendance.

HOW PREVALENT IS DV?

• On average, nearly 20 people per minute are physically abused by an intimate partner in the United States. During one year, this equates to more than 10 million women and men.¹

• 1 in 4 women and 1 in 9 men experience severe intimate partner physical violence, intimate partner contact sexual violence, and/or intimate partner stalking with impacts such as injury, fearfulness, post-traumatic stress disorder, use of victim services, contraction of sexually transmitted diseases, etc.²

- 1 in 3 women and 1 in 4 men have experienced some form of physical violence by an intimate partner. This includes a range of behaviors (e.g. slapping, shoving, pushing) and in some cases might not be considered "domestic violence."¹
- 1 in 7 women and 1 in 25 men have been injured by an intimate partner.¹
- 1 in 10 women have been raped by an intimate partner. Data is unavailable on male victims.¹

IMPACT

Domestic violence is prevalent in every community, and affects all people regardless of age, socioeconomic status, sexual orientation, gender, race, religion, or nationality.

Physical violence is often accompanied by emotionally abusive and controlling behavior as part of a much larger, systematic pattern of dominance and control.

Domestic violence can result in physical injury, psychological trauma, and even death. The devastating consequences of domestic violence can cross generations and last a lifetime.

Everyone, regardless of gender, sexual orientation or gender expression deserves a healthy relationship where they are treated with respect and valued for who they are.

DV IN THE LGBTQ+ COMMUNITY

1. 43.8% of lesbian women and 61.1% of bisexual women have experienced rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner at some point in their lifetime, as opposed to 35% of heterosexual women.
2. 26% of gay men and 37.3% of bisexual men have experienced rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner in their lifetime, in comparison to 29% of heterosexual men.
3. In a study of male same sex relationships, only 26% of men called the police for assistance after experiencing near-fatal violence.
4. In 2012, fewer than 5% of LGBTQ survivors of intimate partner violence sought orders of protection.
5. Transgender victims are more likely to experience intimate partner violence in public, compared to those who do not identify as transgender.
6. Bisexual victims are more likely to experience sexual violence, compared to people who do not identify as bisexual.
7. LGBTQ Black/African American victims are more likely to experience physical intimate partner violence, compared to those who do not identify as Black/African American.
8. LGBTQ white victims are more likely to experience sexual violence, compared to those who do not identify as white.

DV & THE BLACK COMMUNITY

"Due to systemic racism, racist policies, and racist societal structures, both Black women and Black men experience intimate partner violence at a disproportionately high rate. By intentionally denying Black people access to economic opportunities, the ability to build intergenerational wealth, healthcare, education, and a sense of safety from governmental systems, racist policies increase the prevalence of risk factors for domestic violence. These systems create numerous barriers for survivors seeking safety. Law enforcement officials often arrest Black survivors, and police, jurors, and judges are less likely to believe Black survivors than White survivors. Racist systems put Black people at greater risk of experiencing intimate partner violence."

DV AND DISABILITY

According to the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, "A disability is any condition of the body or mind (impairment) that makes it more difficult for the person with the condition to do certain activities (activity limitation) and interact with the world around them (participation restrictions)."

"There are many types of disabilities, such as those that affect a person's Vision, Movement, Thinking, Remembering, Learning, Communicating, Hearing, Mental health, [and] social relationships. Although "people with disabilities" sometimes refers to a single population, this is actually a diverse group of people with a wide range of needs. Two people with the same type of disability can be affected in very different ways. Some disabilities may be hidden or not easy to see."

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Disability and Health Promotion, Disability and health overview. <https://www.cdc.gov/nchdd/disabilityandhealth/disability.html>

18

DV AND DISABILITY

23.8% of women and 20.1% of men in the United States have a disability.¹

Women with disabilities experience intimate partner violence at twice the rate of other populations.²

A CDC study found that, in addition to experiencing intimate partner violence at a higher lifetime rate, in the previous twelve months, when controlling for other factors:

Women with disabilities were more likely to have experienced intimate partner physical violence, intimate partner sexual violence, intimate partner stalking and intimate partner psychological aggression than their non-disabled peers.³

Men with disabilities were more likely to have experienced intimate partner stalking and intimate partner psychological aggression than their non-disabled peers.⁴

Unhealthy, abusive, or violent relationships can have short-and long-term negative effects, including severe consequences, on a developing teen. Youth who are victims of teen dating violence are more likely to:

- experience depression and anxiety symptoms
- engage in unhealthy behaviors, like using tobacco, drugs, and alcohol
- exhibit antisocial behaviors, like lying, theft, bullying, or hitting
- think about suicide
- have the inability to go to school, stay in school, or participate fully in school

CROSS PLATFORM HARASSMENT

When a harasser, or group of harassers, deliberately sabotages or invades multiple online spaces for the purposes of harassing a target. Cross-platform harassment is very effective because users are currently unable to report this scope and context of the harassment when they contact platforms, each of which will only consider the harassment happening on their own sites.

33

CYBER-EXPLOITATION, NONCONSENSUAL PHOTOGRAPHY OR "REVENGE PORN"

The distribution of sexually graphic images without the consent of the subject of the images. The abuser obtains images or videos in the course of a prior relationship, or hacks into the victim's computer, social media accounts or phone. Women make up more than 95 percent of reported victims. The unauthorized sharing of sexualized images is still not illegal in the majority of US states. Twenty-two states now have laws on the books and proposed national legislation is being drafted. It is defined as the non-consensual distribution and publication of intimate photos and videos.

GENDER-BASED SLURS AND HARASSMENT

Name-calling is common online. Gendered harassment, however, involves the use of words, insults, profanity and, often, images to communicate hostility. Typically, harassers resort to words such as "bitch," "slut," "whore," or "cunt" and include commentary on women's physical appearances.

36

IRL ATTACKS

In Real Life Attacks describe incidents where online abuse either moves into the “real” world or is already part of an ongoing stalking or intimate partner violence interaction. IRL trolling can also mean simply trying to instill fear by letting a target know that the abuser knows their address or place of employment.

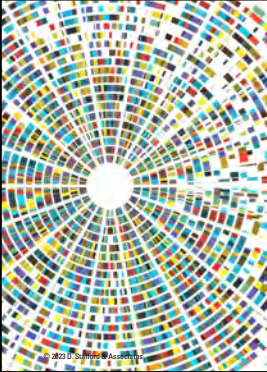

37

SEXUAL OBJECTIFICATION

Harassers frequently objectify their targets, including through the use of manipulated photographs and sexually explicit descriptions of their bodies. Sometimes these also contain threats to the victim.

38

SPYING AND SEXUAL SURVEILLANCE

Women are frequently illegally (and legally) surveilled. This happens in their apartments, in changing rooms, department stores, supermarket bathrooms, on public stairways and subway platforms; in sports arenas and locker rooms; in police stations and in classrooms while they teach.

In dating relationships where abuse is present, dating partners use technology to track their partners locations, watch them from parking lots of nearby inside of where they may be, and even install apps on their phones to be able to listen in o conversations that the victim feels are private.

STALKING AND STALKING BY PROXY

Justice Department records reveal that 70 percent of those stalked online are women and more than 80 percent of cyber-stalking defendants are male.

40

SEXTING/ABUSIVE SEXTING

Sexting is the consensual electronic sharing of naked or sexual photographs. This is different, however, from the nonconsensual sharing of the same images. While sexting is often demonized as dangerous, the danger and infraction is actually resident in the violation of privacy and consent that accompanies the sharing of images without the subject's consent. For example, while teenage boys and girls sext at the same rates, boys are between two and three times more likely to share images that they are sent.

In dating relationships, an abuser will share or threaten to share with others without their partner's consent.

SWATTING

Deliberately tricking authorities into responding to a false emergency situation at a specific address. The term comes from "SWAT" (Special Weapons and Tactics), a branch of the US police that uses militarized techniques, equipment and firearms to breach targeted sites. Harassers will report a serious threat or emergency, eliciting a law enforcement response that might include the use of weapons and possibility of being killed or hurt.

1. The Respondent arrived and went over to the Complainant who was at her desk.
2. The Respondent and Complainant moved to the couch and watched a movie.
3. The Complainant woke up as the Respondent was carrying her to her bed.
4. The roommate was in her bed across the room.

CLOSING: LOOSE ENDS

A close-up photograph of a tangled ball of green and white fiber optic cables. The cables are coiled and intertwined, creating a complex, three-dimensional web of lines. The lighting highlights the texture of the cables, showing individual strands and the way they are bundled together. The background is dark, making the bright green and white of the cables stand out.

INCIDENT CHRONOLOGY

- Ideal for investigative interviews
- Events and themes are organized in a sequential manner by the event, not the meeting
- Provides the interviewee's perspective not the interviewer's
- No observations or analysis

EXAMPLE - CHRONOLOGICAL NARRATIVE

The Complainant stated she came back to her room on October 22, 2022 and found a flower bouquet outside of her room. There was an unsigned note that said, "Hope you are feeling better." Betty stated that she had not felt well the day before and skipped her classes. When asked how the Respondent knew she was sick, she stated that she posted about it on Instagram and "maybe he saw it there."

The Complainant stated that on October 24, 2022, she found another flower bouquet with a note at her door. The note stated, "You looked really pretty today."

EXAMPLE - THE CONVERSATION

Shelby (interviewer): Tell me about how the text TJ sent. How many times does he text each day?

Betty (interviewee): I believe maybe like 50.

Shelby: Is that the average?

Betty: Yeah, probably.

Shelby: What's the most he has ever texted you in a day, from when you woke up until when you went to bed?

Betty: Well, Janice counted once. It was 382. But that was an of day.

133

RELEVANCY

© 2023 D. Stafford & Associates
134

134

WHEN IS EVIDENCE RELEVANT?

Evidence is relevant if:

- (a) it has any tendency to make a fact more or less probable than it would be without the evidence; and
- (b) the fact is of consequence in determining the action.

- (Federal Rules of Evidence)

© 2023 D. Stafford & Associates
135

135

KEY RELEVANCY POINTS

1

The evidence does not need to be conclusive

2

Is sufficient if it constitutes a link in the chain

3

Enough if in connection with other evidence, helps "a little"

136

136

NOT RELEVANT (PER TITLE IX REGULATIONS)

Past Sexual Behavior

Complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior unless...

- Offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged or
- Complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent
