

WHAT IS HONORS?

CCM Honors is a community of scholars that engages in an atmosphere that promotes and supports personal, academic, and intellectual growth. We are dedicated to academic rigor, integrity and collaboration. We have responsibilities to our communities and society as a whole.

Any eligible CCM student can participate in the honors curriculum through honors course work, or may apply for acceptance to the CCM Honors Program.

Honors courses offer smaller class sizes in which all students enrolled are honors students. Honors option courses offer those who excel in the core courses of their major or specific subjects an opportunity to achieve a higher level of competence in a regular section of a class. In addition to the standard assignments, students will complete an honors project that relates to the course objectives, and they will work closely with the professor to complete the project.

CCM Honors Program

The CCM Honors Program is a full program for a cohort of students. After applying to and being accepted into the program, students work towards earning honors designation on their transcript for their degree. In addition to the required number of credits, students must complete an honors capstone project that is presented at the Student Showcase hosted by CCM Honors.

To receive an honors designation on their transcript, students enrolled in Associate of Arts, Associate of Fine Arts, and Associate of Science programs must complete 18 credits of honors courses. Students enrolled in Associate of Applied Science programs must complete 16 credits of honors courses.

CCM Honors accepts applications every year from June 1st to August 31st for fall admission. Please visit the CCM Honors website for more information.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Honors courses are open to students enrolled in the CCM Honors Program, and also to students who qualify academically to take honors courses but are not in the CCM Honors Program.

Challenger Program Students

High school juniors or seniors who are recommended by a guidance counselor or teacher may take appropriate honors courses with the permission of CCM Honors.

Incoming Students

Students new to CCM should meet one of the following criteria:

- Minimum score of 1240 on the SAT
- Minimum score of 26 on the ACT
- Top 10% of high school graduating class

CCM Students

Currently enrolled students at the college must complete a minimum of 12 credits at CCM and have a 3.3 or higher GPA at CCM.

Transfer Students

Students that have transferred into CCM should consult with CCM Honors to determine eligibility.

Don't meet the above criteria, but interested in taking an honors course? Email honors@ccm.edu to discuss the possibilities.

WHY TAKE HONORS?

Benefits

- Join a community of scholars committed to academic engagement and excellence
- Develop relationships with honors faculty who are committed to their students and their success
- Engage in opportunities to delve deeper into topics that interest you
- Exposure to additional research and independent study opportunities

- Gain experience and applicable skills to become a more competitive transfer applicant and marketable candidate
- Participate in co-curricular activities such as events and field trips
- Join us at the Student Showcase hosted by Honors every semester where students highlight their academic work

Activities and Events

All students enrolled in Honors classes have the opportunity to take part in monthly programming geared toward enriching their college experience and preparing them for success beyond CCM. Students will learn more about various services offered by CCM, such as career services, transfer services and library resources. Gatherings will also include workshops and celebrations of students and their work, all while building community with other Honors students.

Honors Experience Highlights

- Contemporary Art Honors students presented their critical analyses on the work of avant-garde artists Shahzia Sikander, Kimsooja, and Kiki Smith in the inaugural Honors Student Showcase at CCM.
- Ecology Honors students used what they learned in their classes to go on to participate in the longest standing U.S. ecological successional field assessment and assist on research surveys with the U.S. Forest Service.
- History Honors students in US History I worked with primary sources at Washington Headquarters at Morristown National Historical Park. Their work was featured on the Morristown National Headquarters Instagram account.

Email honors@ccm.edu to find out more about what you can experience and so much more!
