College Working on Scaled Back Reopening Plan for Fall 2020

President Iacono and his Cabinet, in consultation with faculty, staff and students, over the last several weeks have been working on a Plan to Return to Campus for the Fall 2020 Semester. During the course of this week, President Iacono and the Cabinet held a number of online meetings with faculty and staff to go over some of the details included in the plan. The plan calls for opening the campus on a very limited basis and the implementation of numerous measures to protect the health and well-being of students, employees and visitors. The final plan, which is slated to be completed by early August, will be announced via email, here in the CCMemo and housed on the college's COVID-19 Information and Resource Center, along with a comprehensive FAQ section.

Outstanding Students of BMET

Throughout July and August, the School of Business, Mathematics, Engineering and Technologies (BMET) will be presenting the "Outstanding Students of BMET," highlighting some of CCM's recent graduates and current students who share their stories of success and the impact that CCM has made on their lives. Their stories will be housed on the CCM website at www.ccm.edu/academics/divdep/bmet/outstanding-students-of-bmet and shared on the college's social media platforms.

Read Current and Historical News Online Through the Library Website.

Thanks to CARES Act funding, the CCM Library is now offering electronic access to a selection of local and regional newspapers.

How to access historical and current newspapers:

- At www.ccm.edu/library, click Articles & Databases
- In All Subjects (upper left), select News
- Open one of the following:
 - Newspapers - Current Northeast Collection
 - Newspapers: Historical U.S. Collection
 - Newsstand
- Use your CCM login when prompted.

The Susan Kunz Memorial Scholarship

Early Tuesday, April 2, 2020, Susan Kunz, sister, loving wife, mother to three beautiful daughters, aunt and grandmother passed away unexpectedly.

Sue was committed to her work in the Purchasing department at CCM and loved the campus, the staff and most importantly, the students. For a time, her daughters where CCM students. She felt strongly that everyone has a right to an education. She also knew first hand that not all have the resources needed.

To celebrate her life and "pay it forward" in her memory, a scholarship is being created for CCM students.

A GoFundMe site has been set up at <https://gf.me/u/yfk7tj> or people can make a gift on the CCM Foundation site at www.ccm.edu/donate or send a check to the Foundation.
