CCM Receives Prestigious Good Neighbor Award Recognized for Contributions to Advanced Manufacturing

CCM has been presented with a prestigious Good Neighbor Award from New Jersey Business Magazine for its Advanced Manufacturing and Engineering Center (AMEC), which is addressing the need for skilled professionals to keep New Jersey strong.

In announcing the award, New Jersey Business Magazine noted that 3.4 million manufacturing jobs will be created over the next decade that will require math, science and engineering skills and praised CCM for serving as “a positive example of New Jersey answering this educational need.”

The announcement further credited the college for designing the center for collaborative learning where students can draw their concepts on whiteboard walls and walk down the hall to prototype and manufacture using state-of-the art equipment and fabrication tools.

The Good Neighbor Awards recognize firms, institutions and nonprofits that have contributed to the economic growth and stabilization of their respective neighborhoods by constructing and improving buildings and infrastructure that add value to their communities. Recipients are selected based on community involvement, job creation, architectural merit and economic benefit.

“We’re delighted to have AMEC recognized with this distinguished award for all that it contributes to the success of advanced manufacturing in the region and state,” said Dr. Anthony J. Iacono, CCM president. “It is an honor to be included among such an impressive group of recipients.”

Also included among the 2022 recipients are a veteran’s housing project in Jersey City, a leading-edge cancer center at Inspira Medical Center Mullica Hill, a new road in Cherry Hill, and a gene therapy center in Hopewell.

To meet the growing demand for skilled professionals in advanced manufacturing, CCM partnered with industry and state and local officials to open AMEC on its Randolph campus during the COVID-19 pandemic. The $11 million, 31,500-square-foot facility now provides a pipeline of workers, while also enabling current employees to update their skills and create innovative solutions. With a $4 million federal CareerAdvance grant, the college also is leading a consortium of community colleges in the state to create successful apprenticeship models in advanced manufacturing. Its apprenticeship program currently holds a 93 percent job placement rate.

High school students from the Morris County Vocational School District also benefit from AMEC by taking part in the college’s Engineering Design and Advanced Manufacturing share time program.

The Gourmet Club, members of the Chaine des Rotisseurs, CCM staff and guests all enjoyed an amazing lunch at the Culinary Institute of American (CIA) in Hyde Park, NY on Friday, June 24. The group started their adventure with a CIA “Taste Like a Chef Experience.” They then had the opportunity to experiment with different ingredients, creating distinct tastes, and took a quick tour of the building. At 11:30 a.m., they were seated at The Bocuse Restaurant and began a three-course lunch:

Deconstructed Nicoise Salad, choice of Magret Duck Breast, Strip Loin of Beef or Vegetarian and the grand finale, Warm Chocolate Molten Cake. They report that the day was “an absolute culinary delight” and encourage you to join them on their next trip.

The Creative Leadership Club (CLC) celebrated its 10-year anniversary the evening of June 10 at the Randolph Diner with nine members attending, one of whom was Rita Ragany-Bayer from HR who has been a wonderful supporter of this special employee club over the past decade. The club was born from a community service exercise that Ragany-Bayer facilitated in the 2011 CCM Leadership Academy where the original CLC members came from. Many of those participants are still involved. Nicole Williams, administrative assistant in the School of Health Professions & Natural Sciences, created a beautiful plaque commemorating this milestone that will hang in the studio art room where CLC members create their projects.
