

Alexa Sparta was born on January 29th 1999 at Hackensack hospital. She grew up in Butler, New Jersey her entire life. She went to Aaron Decker Elementary school which was one of the first places she realized she loved art. It was her favorite time of the day at school and could not wait to see what project was next. Years later, she realized her true passion for art was in high school. Alexa attended Butler High School where she took Art 1, Art 2, Pottery, and Photography classes. She even had some of her art pieces in the school's art show two years in a row. After high school, she moved on to County College of Morris (CCM) to further her education in Radiology. Art did not seem like a lifelong dream to her and thought giving up on art and taking a different approach for a career would be the way to go. She quickly realized she missed creating art and expressing her creative abilities after two semesters and switched her major to Interior Design. Although it is not always paper to pen art work, there is still an art in this field that is important to our daily lives. Once she graduates in May 2021, Alexa will continue her Interior Design career path by getting into home staging and also attaining her real estate license. These two career choices go hand in hand and she is more than thrilled to see where it takes her.
