

Isabella Greco

Isabella realized she had a creative eye in her teen years, especially when it came to fashion.

She pursued this passion of hers after exploring other career options for a few years. This seemed to make the most sense to her when she finally dove into the field of fashion; she realized this is where she belonged. With an anticipated Associates in Fine Arts this May 2021, Isabella will be continuing her dreams and attending LIM College in New York, NY in the fall. The city has endless opportunities as it is the leading fashion city, so it only made sense for her to continue her education there. She truly can not wait to dive deeper into the business of fashion.
