

Tara Lupo

Tara Lupo is a student at County College of Morris. She is currently studying Fashion Design and is graduating in May of 2021. She grew up in Hopatcong New Jersey and later attended Sussex County Technical School in high school graduating in 2015. Here she took the trade of Cinematography achieving a certification. Tara modeled for the Sussex County Technical school fashion show and attended skills USA which further inspired her love for art as well as fashion. Tara hopes to find the perfect school for her to carry on her love for art and later land a career in the fashion design industry.