NSAL Scholarship Award

At a recent awards reception in Califon, Jessica Longo, poetry student of Professor Sander Zulauf (English and Philosophy), received a scholarship from the New Jersey Chapter of the National Society of Arts and Letters.

Jessica was awarded the scholarship for her poem entitled "In Solitude," based on a painting by Monet, which she read at the reception. It was written as an assignment for Professor

Jessica Longo and Mrs. Sharon Longo

Zulauf's Introduction to Poetry class in the spring semester. The reception was attended by student artists, musicians, singers, actors and dancers from all over New Jersey who displayed and performed their award-winning work to a large and appreciative audience of Association members, friends, families and invited guests. Jessica plans to take creative writing with Professor Zulauf this fall.

Notes from Colleagues

I would like to thank everyone at CCM for your support of me and my family during this difficult time of grieving my father's passing. We truly appreciated all the prayers, cards, gift baskets, food, flowers, and your attendance at the viewing and funeral. It really helps to know people care about you and are there for you, and I can't thank you enough. Donna Bednarczyk
