CCM Dance Theatre Concert

Come celebrate the joy and power of movement. County College of Morris' Dance Theatre Company presents a showcase of original works by CCM faculty, students and guest artists at 7:30 p.m., March 4 - 6 with a 2 p.m. matinee on March 6 in the Dragonetti Auditorium.

"I am a dancer. I believe that we learn by practice. Whether it means to learn to dance by practicing dancing or to learn to live by practicing living, the principles are the same.

In each it is the performance of a dedicated precise set of acts, physical or intellectual, from which comes shape of achievement, a sense of one's being, a satisfaction of spirit. One becomes in some area an athlete of God." Martha Graham.

- $15 general admission
- $10 CCM students, children under 12 and seniors 62 & over

Interesting Websites

Like science? Have kids who like science? Then visit Science Oxford Online where you can read/watch videos concerning scientific topics. The site had an extremely easy interface. <http://www.scienceoxfordonline.com/>

Bolstered by a polar clock in the upper-right hand corner and a collection of intriguing images, the Science Oxford Online website is sure to draw interested parties in with a few clicks of the mouse. The site was originally launched in 2009, and the aim of the site is to give members of the general public "a feel for new research and get some ideas about how science theories of today might create tomorrow's commercial products." On the homepage, visitors are presented with a grid of fifteen different images. Scrolling over these images reveals tags like "What Do Atheists Believe?" and "The Very Strange Properties of Cornstarch". Clicking on each of these links brings up a variety of media, including articles, press releases, video lectures, and so on. Visitors can also search the entire site, or use the "Filter Content" tab to find materials on biology, technology, weather, and other topical matters.
