CCM Shakespeare and Company presents George Bernard Shaw’s “Androcles & the Lion” at 7:30 p.m. from April 28 - May 1 in the Dragonetti Auditorium.

Shaw retells the story of Androcles, a slave who is saved by the requited mercy of a lion. In the play, Androcles is one of many Christians being led to the Colosseum for torture and death. Shaw’s play underscores themes

Interesting Websites

Looking for a summer trip that involves music? Why not try "The Crooked Road?" Check it out at this website.

The Crooked Road: Virginia's Heritage Music Trail [iTunes] <http://www.thecrookedroad.org/default.asp>

The idea for Virginia's "Crooked Road" began to germinate in the minds of Virginians in January 2003. A number of public officials, musicians, and others were interested in an economic development strategy for the Appalachian region of southwestern Virginia, and they wanted to draw on the region's rich musical heritage. Over time, the project grew, and today it includes ten counties, three cities, ten towns, and four state agencies.

This well-designed site allows visitors to learn about the trail, its music venues, the music itself, and the communities along the route. First-time visitors will want to start out in "The Trail" area. Here they can view an interactive map of the area, look over the calendar of events, and read about nearby attractions. The next stop should be "The Music". As one might imagine, there are clips of music from the Crooked Road, including favorites like "Old Time Fire on the Mountain." Finally, visitors shouldn't forget the "Communities" area, which contains profiles of the places where the songs come alive, such as Big Stone Gap and Damascus.
