Datatel Colleague Improvements

The CCM Information Systems Department is pleased to announce the Datatel Colleague system is now accessible via a web browser. This means you can access Datatel Colleague from any computer on campus that has access to the Internet. This means you no longer have to use the Datatel Icon located on your desktop, although that Icon will still be available.

Faculty members may now perform advisement using the updated website. The screens and mnemonics are the same as the previous version of Datatel Colleague; however, there are some differences between the website and desktop versions. The Information Systems department has created a tutorial on Blackboard to assist you with navigating the website. Please take a moment to review the online material and print out the Instructions or Quick Reference Guide. In addition, online video tutorials have been created.

If you require a refresher course in Blackboard Navigation, please call Sheri Ventura at ext. 5184 and she can help you become familiar with the program.

If this is the first time you are accessing Blackboard call Anthony Spagnuolo at ext. 5108 and he will forward you the default password.

- To open the site, type in the same User ID and password that you currently use for Datatel.

Post Sandy Advisory Update

The NJ Regional Operations and Intelligence Center (NJ ROIC) provides information to support its constituencies with planning and response activities.

In response to Sandy, the Google’s Crisis Response Project has built tools to collect and share critical information. One tool is an interactive map at http://google.org/crisismap/2012-sandy providing the following critical information:

- Post-Sandy imagery (imagery collected after Sandy). Imagery was captured November 1, 2012 from the NOAA-National Geodetic Survey
- Road work and traffic advisories
- Traffic conditions
- Power outages
- Food and gas locations and status
- Shelters and recovery centers

The Hughes Network Systems (e.g., Hughes, www.hughes.com) provide satellite and land-line connections to locations that support point-of-sale systems. The underlying assumption is that if the communications links are still “UP,” the chances are the locations are still functioning with power and are able to conduct business.

“UP” status would indicate that the location may still be able to communicate credit card and other operational transactions.

As with all disasters, this information is subject to change without notice.

Service Recognition Honorees

EOF Children’s Book Drive
The EOF office is promoting children’s literacy through the “Cops N’ Kids” program now through Thursday, December 20. Please donate new or slightly used children’s books for pre-K – middle school aged children. Books can be dropped off at either the EOF office, Cohen Hall CH 211, or the Information Window at the office of Campus Life, SCC 226. There will be collection boxes located right outside of these offices.

Library’s November Book Display
Honoring Our Veterans
Feel free to borrow any item on display. On the website www.ccm.edu/library, click Timely Topics – Coming Home or click articles, databases and newspapers. Select History Reference Center to find articles about our military’s past.

Off-campus users will need to log in with lastname.first and PW = last four of student ID#. Staff/faculty can use email login.

Kudos
Professor Clayton Allen and Dr. Stephen Levy co-authored a paper with Dr. Charles Secolsky, former director of Institutional Research here at County College of Morris, titled Making Sense of Ambiguity in the Qualitative Assessment of Student Learning Outcomes, presented at the American Education Association (AEA) conference in Minneapolis on October 24. The paper was very well-received. Anyone wanting a copy of the Powerpoint presentation, please contact Professor Allen callen@ccm.edu or Professor Levy slevy@ccm.edu.

Scholarship Holiday Greeting Card
The Scholarship Holiday Greeting Card has been a longstanding tradition here on campus. It’s a time for us to come together and support each other by donating to a special scholarship fund awarded to your fellow employees. Your contribution will go directly to the Scholarship Holiday Greeting Card fund, which is available to full-time employees or their children for books and fees.

In late December, an e-holiday card will be sent to the entire campus community, bearing the names of all donors. Send your donation to Roxanne Smith, mail station HH 119 by November 30. Make your check payable to the CCM Foundation. Every donation, no matter the denomination, is appreciated.
