Paper Mill Selects Director, Professor as Rising Star Judge

Colleen McArdle of Riverdale, director of Special Events and an adjunct professor of Dance at County College of Morris (CCM), recently was selected as an adjudicator for the Paper Mill Playhouse's Rising Star Awards program. As an adjudicator, McArdle will be responsible for helping to judge the performances of high school students interested in the performing arts.

Introduced in 1996, the nationally recognized Rising Star Awards program sends a panel of adjudicators to review more than 100 high school musical productions in all 21 New Jersey counties. Adjudicators review performances and submit recommendations in 19 performance categories including best leading actress, best supporting actor, set design, lighting, musical direction and overall production. A Tony Award-style ceremony concludes the program where nominated students perform and more than $60,000 in scholarships are awarded.

Evaluators are comprised of theater educators as well as representatives from New Jersey professional and community

Dialing Off Campus: 9 Will No Longer Provide an Outside Line

Come this month, dialing "9" to gain access to an outside telephone line will no longer work. The college's current system only requires that you dial 1 and then the area code followed by the number. The option of dialing "9" to access an outside line is being eliminated to prevent the dialing of calls to 911 by mistake.

theatres, presenting halls and arts education organizations.

Past Rising Star recipients include Tony Award winners Laura Benanti (Gypsy, Sound of Music, Nine) and Nikki M. James (Book of Mormon), in addition to Anne Hathaway, a Golden Globe nominee for Les Miserables.

"I'm delighted to be participating in this program, especially since I have been able to work with many students who were involved in past programs and then attended CCM as musical theater or dance majors," said McArdle.

McArdle, a former professional performer, has been an arts educator in the tri-state area for more than 20 years. She earned her Associate in Arts degree from CCM and her BFA from Montclair State University.
