Graduate's Career Spans the Secret Service to Air Marshals

Thirty years ago, when Martin R. Ebelhardt, formerly of Randolph, majored in criminal justice at County College of Morris (CCM), he never imagined that his career would take him to the White House and beyond.

"I had initially started my college experience at Stockton State in South Jersey," Ebelhardt says. "I decided to come back, live at home and go to CCM because of financial issues in the family." He quickly gravitated to the world of law enforcement and earned his Associate of Science degree in Criminal Justice in 1987.

"After I graduated from CCM, I applied and was selected for a position with the U.S. Secret Service Uniform Division in Washington D.C.," he says. During his seven years working at the White House, he met two presidents, heads of state, and several famous entertainers and musicians.

When the Air Marshal Service formed after September 11, 2001, he joined as a training and operations supervisor in Minneapolis. Today, he is the assistant supervisory air-marshal-in-charge. Read more at <http://tinyurl.com/po2kec5>.

FRIENDLY REMINDERS

Emails Now Archived

Outlook now includes an Archive folder that allows sent emails, along with other emails that have not been deleted, to be retained indefinitely in email user accounts.

The Archive folder automatically houses all emails a year or older, except for deleted emails. Deleted emails will be retained for just two weeks as is currently the case. However, sent emails no longer will be deleted after 30 days as they have been. Instead they will be allowed to accumulate for a year before being moved to the Archive.

The Archive folder also includes an exact replication of the subfolders users have created in their main email accounts. A Sent folder will be created in the Archive as soon as there are sent emails that are a year old.

The Archive folder is located at the bottom of the left navigation pane. Email users do not need to do anything to have the Archive folder added to their accounts.

Email users can also conduct searches in Outlook that include their Archive folders, by using the "Try searching again in All Email Mail Items" option.

You can view a short video on how email archiving works at <http://tinyurl.com/qb3nrxc>.

CCM’s 91-Year-Old Student Thrives in Intro to Film Course

Ira Kaplan, 91 years old from Clifton, came to CCM during the Fall 2014 Semester to take Dr. Matthew Jones’ Introduction to Film class. Kaplan was already well introduced to cinematography, given that his father had owned a chain of New Jersey movie theaters during the early 20th century, but he wanted to study early film in an academic setting.

“They called my father the ‘Movie King,’” said Kaplan. “He was a movie exhibitor and owned five movie houses that I knew of.”

Jones was thrilled to have Kaplan’s “depth and breadth” of knowledge on the subject of film enhancing the classroom experience for students.

Kaplan’s presence added an extra layer of richness to class discussions, especially when the class watched movies from the World War II era such as Citizen Kane.
