THREE GENERATIONS WHO TURNED TO CCM FOR A NURSING DEGREE

Darrin Pulver, of Great Meadows, knew in high school that he wanted to be a nurse and attend County College of Morris (CCM) to earn his degree. Following in the footsteps of his mother, Colleen Pulver and grandmother, Peggy Bassinski, who each graduated from CCM with a nursing degree, he explains, "I enjoyed listening to their stories about their work." With a father who is a microbiologist, he adds, "I've been surrounded by science and the medical field all my life."

All three agree that the quality of the education they received through the CCM nursing program was outstanding. Darrin notes that as a two-year associate degree program, the nursing professors at CCM are committed to covering as much material as possible and to challenging their students to excel. "They also are wonderful mentors," he says. His plan is to obtain a position at Morristown Medical Center and then to earn a bachelor's, master's and eventually a doctorate degree in nursing. "The future of healthcare is going to be very dependent on nurses," he notes. "I want to be a part of that."

WHAT IS YOUR DEPARTMENT PLANNING?

Over the last several months, the 50th Anniversary Committee has been working on a series of events to help celebrate this college landmark. The committee also wants to be sure that everything is included, so it is reaching out to learn what your department might be planning: special lectures, performances, guest speakers, student projects or perhaps something else. Please let the committee know how you plan to mark this special occasion so it can help publicize that to the CCM community and the community at large.

Please email that information to aognibene@ccm.edu and cmcardle@ccm.edu

Here is the sixth photo. If you think you know who it is, please email Allison Ognibene at aognibene@ccm.edu.

*Did you guess last weeks' photo?
 It was Terry Backman
 Terry was the first official graduate of CCM and later served as a CCM security officer.*
