CCM AND MT OLIVE SIGN DUAL ENROLLMENT AGREEMENT

County College of Morris and the Mt. Olive School District today signed the college’s first dual enrollment agreement that will provide high school students with the opportunity to begin their higher education early. Through the partnership, CCM will provide Mt. Olive High School students with a pathway to start earning college credits, while exploring college and career options. The program is aligned with the New Jersey Office of the Secretary of Higher Education’s vision for higher education that calls for providing New Jersey students with early exposure to college. Mt. Olive High School students will have the opportunity to take college courses identical in content to CCM classes at half the price of the in-county tuition rate. Currently, that cost would equate to $68.50 a credit, plus fees, for Mt. Olive students.

The program, named Titans Express, will start this fall. Classes at the high school will be taught by Mt. Olive High School teachers working collaboratively with CCM professors. Credit hours earned by students will be applied to the corresponding certificate or associate degree program at CCM should students decide to enroll at the college. The college credits also may apply to their high school graduation requirements or bachelor degree programs offered at four-year institutions.

To apply to the program, parents and guardians first need to fill out the application for CCM’s Challenger Program for high school students. The application for the Challenger Program can be downloaded at <https://www.ccm.edu/wp-content/uploads/pdf/admissions/admiss/challenger/Challenger-App-Digital.pdf>. That application then should be submitted to the CCM’s Admissions office or Mt. Olive High School.

CCM plans to expand the Titans Express program to other high schools in the area. The college also offers a number of other programs for high school students. To review the programs for high school students, visit <https://www.ccm.edu/admissions/apply/programs-for-high-school-students>.

KUDOS

Adjunct Professor Julian Costa, from the Department of Communications, recently had an article published in the Galion: The Historian on the career of David Campbell. A leader in the field of broadcasting and communications, Campbell taught media production at East Stroudsburg State College where Costa ended up taking a course designed by Campbell. That, in turn, promoted Costa to research Campbell's life and write about his work in the field of communication.
