Press Conference Announces The Moving Wall Coming to CCM

While most of the campus was closed Wednesday as Plant & Maintenance worked to clear the latest snowfall, local and state officials and several from the college community were able to gather with VFW Post 7333 to announce its plans to bring the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Moving Wall to CCM. Speaking at a press conference, held in the Landscape & Horticultural Technology building, William Menzel of VFW Post 7333 announced that The Moving Wall, a half-sized replica of the wall in Washington, D.C., will be at CCM from July 7 to July 11.

President Tony Iacono welcomed the more than 40 distinguished veterans and guests saying, "I learn and gain perspective when speaking with our service members. It's an honor and privilege to support our veterans and what you have done for our country."

Vietnam veteran Emerson Crooks, who arranged for The Moving Wall to come to CCM said, "It has been a long journey to get this wall to our county. I have family on that wall. They became family. Never forget," referring to six squad members he lost in one night. The names of each of those men are engraved on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial and The Moving Wall, along with more than 58,000 others.

In appreciation for bringing the wall to CCM, the post was presented with proclamations from State Senator Anthony M. Bucco, Assemblywoman Aura Dunn, Deputy Director of the Morris County Commissioners John Krickus, Randolph Mayor Marie Potter and a representative from Congresswoman Mikie Sherrill's office.

Several special ceremonies will take place while The Moving Wall is at CCM. July 8 will feature the reading of proclamations from local officials. The Grand Opening will take place July 9 with proclamations from the U.S. Congress and New Jersey State Legislature, a tribute to Gold Star families and a wreath laying ceremony. July 10 will feature the singing of God Bless America. July 8 through July 10 also will feature rifle salutes and then the playing of Taps each evening at 8 p.m. The closing ceremony will take place the morning of July 11 with the Retiring of Colors and the collection of wreaths and any mementos left at the wall, which will be turned over to the Morris County Office of Planning & Preservation.

Professors Dorothy Salinas, Caitlin Burns and Eric Guadara received a second round of the Open Textbook Collaborative Grant, a New Jersey Higher Education program funded by the U.S. Department of Education, to extend the CCM Virtual Microscope to include slides for several additional biology courses (BIO 102, BIO 121, BIO 122, BIO 133, BIO 215). The extended microscope will also be customizable by faculty at other institutions to utilize slides appropriate to their coursework.

Pulitzer Prize Winner Author and Journalist Stephen Hunter Coming to CCM

Pulitzer Prize winning journalist and New York Times bestselling author Stephen Hunter will speak to the CCM community on Thursday, March 24, from 12:30 to 1:45 p.m.

Hunter's novel Targeted, just released, is his 30th book and is already a New York Times bestseller. The book is described as a white-knuckled thriller featuring a master sniper who protects a group of political hostages.

Among the topics, Hunter will discuss are:

- Assorted tips for journalists
- How he made the transition from nonfiction to fiction writing
- Writing historical fiction

The talk will be moderated by Dr. Kenneth A. Shouler, English & Philosophy.

Attend in person in the SCC Davidson Rooms or on Zoom. Email campuslife@ccm.edu for the Zoom link.

The CCM Style Guide

Along with using the college's logos and colors in a consistent manner, another important piece of branding is the language and messaging that are used. Consistency here also is key for conveying a strong and effective brand. Toward that end, the college has an editorial style guide, the "CCM Style Guide for Writers," that address a wide range of style questions, such as the use of ampersands, how to write out different degrees, what number of spaces to use after a period and more. Those who write material for external audiences are asked to become familiar with the guide, which was recently updated. Should you like a print copy, please contact Kathleen Brunet at kbrunet@ccm.edu.

In a related matter, if you have not yet taken part in the college's Brand Assets Training to learn how to make proper use of the college's logos and colors or if you would like a refresher session, please contact Graphic Designer Gina Garcia at ggarcia@ccm.edu.

Titans TVs Electronic Bulletin Boards

As you probably noticed, the bulletin boards the campus once used to advertise events and services have been replaced with TV monitors around the campus that have come to be known as Titans TVs. With that change, Marketing & Public Relations is now handling submissions and postings to the monitors. Departments that want to display information on the digital monitors can email that information to MarketingandPublicRelations@ccm.edu. Please also include the desired start date and end date. All postings must comply with the college's Policy on Solicitation.

buy more? Help is now available here on campus through a partnership between CCM and the Interfaith Food Pantry Network (IFPN) of Morris County.

IFPN will be delivering food on a regular basis for CCM students and employees experiencing food insecurity. The service is completely free and strictly confidential. Best of all, you can select what food you want and need through the IFPN's online shopping list. The IFPN offers canned and boxed goods, along with fresh produce, dairy products and baby food.

To get started, fill out the online application at <https://mcifp.org/ccm-food-pantry/> where you can also note what days and times work best for you to pick up your food. Then go to the shopping list at <https://mcifp.org/distribution-shopping-list/> and make your selections. The food will be packed into bags with your initials and delivered to the Hospitality Management & Culinary Arts department on the second floor of the Student Community Center where you can pick them up.
