

Academic Freedom Policy

It is the policy of the College to maintain and encourage full freedom, within the law, of inquiry, teaching and research. In the exercise of this freedom the faculty member may, without limitation, discuss their own subject in the classroom; they may not, however, claim as their right the privilege of discussing in their classroom controversial matter which has no relation to their subject. In their role as a citizen, the faculty member has the same freedom as other citizens. They should be mindful, however, that in their extramural utterances they have an obligation to indicate that they are not a spokesperson for the college.
